EUNICE BLAVASCUNAS TEACHING VISIT AT VYTAUTAS MAGNUS UNIVERSITY March 17-23, 2023

VMU Vytautas Kavolis Interdisciplinary Professorship welcomes Eunice Blavascunas, an Associate Professor of Anthropology and Environmental Studies at Whitman College in Walla Walla, Washington.

After 20 years of research into the conflict of the Białowieża Forest in Poland, a conflict involving foresters, national park employees, ecological activists, local people, and biologists, professor Blavascunas wants to share insights about how to think in comparative perspectives, especially when one is working in an organization driven by firm and historical ideas about what is best for nature.
